H. F. No. 30, the local option law, then loomed up. MR. MARSHALL moved to strike out the enacting clause.

This provoked a lively debate, which

Ms. Smoot was decidedly in favor of local option. It was demanded by a great many people in the Territory. The district which he represented would greatly be benefited by the passage of that law. He would vote for such a measure, and thought it ought to go through.

MR. MARSHALL said the gentleman's remarks reminded him of the old story of the fox who accidentally had his tail cut off and wanted all the foxes to have theirs decapitated. Because it suited his locality it would not do for others. He had seen evils arising from the local option law, and would vote against it.

Mr. Wooller was in favor of the bill. He believed that the majority should say whether liquor was to be sold or not in any locality. It would prevent saloons from being opened on other than on the business streets, and residents would be free from being residents would be free from having

The people had sufficient finencially, morally and why. uffered financially, morally and phys-cally from it. He was against the bill. Mr. Beyan expected all the members would be placed on record regarding the bill. If prohibition was national he would favor the bill; as it was otherwise he was dead against it. Mr. Carlisla favored the bill. He thought that saloons conducted openly resulted in more horn than if conducted privately. On the call, the vote

Reform schools, agricultural colleges and other institutions provided for, were good things—but this place was one of necessity.

The Chair suggested that the appro printions already made exceeded the borrowing power of the Territory, ex-clusive of the revenue.

Ms. Chark wanted the matter of an appropriation for the asylum to go over until to-morrow, in order that the members might find out where the money was coming from.

Mr. Thursdan objects i. If the idea was to deteat the appropriation asked or, it might as well be done right now and here. Mr. Hoge objected to a postponement. The House was just as ready now to yote on the question as it would be a month hence.

Mr. Movne insisted that the matter go over. It had come upon him, at least, quite suddenly, and he was not prepared, just at present to handle it.

Mr. Allen was surprised that any gentleman should get up on the floor of this House, and say he knew nothing about a matter that had been before him since the earliest day of the session.

him since the earliest day of the session. What was the reason for the delay? Was the idea to kill the bonding bill? Was the idea to kill the bonding bill? If the gentleman is not ready now, when will he be? Shall we go on and build new institutions and fail to finish those now in our charge? If we can't provide for the present institutions, let us go to the Governor and implore him to veto all the measures we have passed for new institutions—for Capitol grounds, for the reform school, for the agricultural college, etc. Why have the gentlemen who have voted away so much money, suddenly become so tender on the sub suddenly become so tender on the sub-ject? They were not quite so touchy so economical, when the wind blew their way.

MR. HATCH was ready to vote now for the appropriation of $100,000; if any-thing had to remain unprovided for, let it be those institutions which have not yet been started.

THE REAL ESTATE MEN

Their Interesting Meeting on Tuesday Night

TO BOOM THE CITY'S GROWTH.

The Speeches Made - What the Chamber of Commerce is Dolog-Excursions From the East.

Nearly all of the real estate dealers of this city attended the meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce last night. for the purpose of adopting plans to forward the interests of the city.

At about 8 o'clock, W. H. Sells called the meeting to order, and read the call. Mr. Sells was then elected chairman, and in assuming the position,s ated that the city was on the eve of an era of great prosperity, and it was for the purpose of making that prosperity permanent that the meeting had been called.

O. J. Hollister was elected secretary, after which Mr. Sells called upon Secretary Forhan for information as to what the Chamber of Commerce was doing.

Mr. Forban stitled that a committee had recently been appointed by the Chamber to solicit contributions to the treasury fund. Heretofore the Chamber had done a great deal to attentive the city. done a great deal to advertise the city, and the present prosperity was largely due to this. He had sungested that the fund be used in organizing excursions to this city, and that a large number of handsomely illustrated pamphleis be gotten out, and distributed all over the country, and sent by real estate men in reply to letters of inquiry. He thought that an effort should be made to organize an excursion from St. Louis. If a large party should leave that city for Salt Lake, the event would make noise enough to done a great deal to advertise the city the event would make noise enough to thoroughly advertise us, and would bring thousands of others here. If this idea should be adopted, the C. F. 39, a bill amending Chapter pamphlets referred to would be liberally distributed in the city, and advertisements placed in the leading papers there. He suggested St. Louis for many reasons, and if an excursion from that place should be successful, excursions might then be organized from sions might then be organized from other cities. The great object to attain was to secure low railroad rates, and for this he was working. The Chamber had also petitioned the City Council for a site upon which to erect a board of trade building, and an effort was being made porters, and creating and d fining the Was to establish manufactories here, which to establish manufactories here, which would be necessary to maintain a boom. He described how the manufactories in Denver, Wt. hita, Minne-polis and other places had been established. It was necessary to induce men of capital and energy to start enterprises here. How this was to be done was the thing to business.

Superintendent is eagage in business.

A Boom in Oranges.

Hyde & Griffin received another carload of those fine hand-picked oranges yesterday, and sent out over a third of them almost before they were tiered up in their placs.

Five hundred pieces Swiss Embroi: this was to be done was the thing to consider.

(bl. T. P. Murray, of Sioux City, was called for, and, in responding, said that he had attended the meeting rather to listen than to talk. He had only been here about a week, but was infatnated with Sait Laske, and intended to stay there. The people living in this valley did not see and appreciate the advantage as strangers did. The excursion idea was a long step in advance. He thought excursions should be running. thought excursions should be running in here every week. The establishment of manufac ories was sadly needed. Nature had certainly done her part, capital and energy must complete it. He described the wonderful growth in wealth and population of Sicut City, and said that it was all due to the united action of the business men who and secured manufacturing. men, who had secured manufacturing and railroad advantages by offering large bonules. There was nothing which made so favorable an impression upon strangers as public improvements. Salt Lake had the finest site he had ever seen. He described the public in-provements made in Sioux City since isst March, and hoped that the same policy might be pursued here. When the excursionists should arrive, the mayor and city officials should drive its advantages.

Judge Besson was called for, and said tury, looking for the promised land, and he thought he had found it. The real he thought he had found it. The real estate men were necessary to the build ing up of the city. They had built Minneapolis, Denver, Sioux City, and most of the other live cities, and it would be the real estate men who would build up Salt Lake City if it was built up had build up Salt Lake City if it was built up had build up salt lake City if it was built up had build up salt lake City if it was built up had build up salt lake City if it was built up had build up salt lake City if it was built up at all they were men who would back their opinions with their money. Another factor in the building up of a city was the hotels. It struck him that city was the hotels. It struck him that Salt Lake should have a hotel with a capacity and accommodations as large as all the present hotels. It would be of great advantage to the city if the slumbering energies of the residents organized.

Ms. Hollister was called for, and said that he understood the meeting had been called for the purpose of or ganizing some sort of a real estate ex-change. He had been at work a long time here, but lacked the means to back his faith in the country. He compared Colorado with Utsh, and on the whole. thought that Utah possessed greater resources. The new comers would have to be depended on for the development of those resources. It remained for such men as Judge Benson and Colonel Murray to bring the capital here, and he thought that in the capital here, and he thought that in tweive years. Salt Lake would surpass Denver in population and wealth. Na-ture had pic.ed this spot out as a site for a great city, and that was what it was bound to be. Salt Lake could hold her ow, as ainst the cities of the west, so far as manufactories were concerned. far as manufactories were concerned. All that was required was a united of fort. There were a number of reales ate men in the city, and they must keep real estate active, but be hoped that prices would not be inflated.

Mr. Banson said that he did not like the word boom, and did not believe in Ms Fm and late of Cheyenne, said that he had come to Salt Lake to stay. He was pleased to observe that matters were being talked over, and suggested that when the meeting adjourned, it would be to meet again soon for the purpose of adopting some plan to adverwood ward house, on Thursday, the 5th, at 1 o'clock 9 m. Friends invited.

C. B. Goustay described how he and Mr. Kinney had attempted to start the North Salt Lake addition, and said that their failure was largely due to the lack of unity which existed among the real estate men. He was in favor of forming an advertising bureau, to be supported by contributions.

MR Selfs thought that a committee should be appointed to confer with the

MR SELES thought that a committee should be appointed to confer with the Chamber of Commerce, with a view of agreeing upon some deficite plan.

MR FORMAN said that the Chamber

Ms. Forman said that the Chamber of Commerce was a bond of unity between the business men, and it had been of great benefit to the city and Territory in more ways than one. The membership of the Chamber was to be increased by the admission of fifty new members, and he suggested that as the real estate men had no organization of their own, they might take advantage of this, and if they saw fit, form an organization within the Cham er.

W. A. Stanton moved that a committee of seven be appointed to confer with a like committee from the Cham.

Judge Colburn, late of Gunnion, said that he was in full accord with all that had been said about the future of this city. He showed the necessity of an organization which would project real estate dealers, and moved that a committee of five be appointed to decide lung a plan of corrected and

THE HEBER ROBBERY.

A Man Arrested on Suspicion and Discharged.

The topic which has entirely engrossed the attention of the inhabitants of this pretty out-of-the-way

town for the past week or so, has been the arrest and subsequent discharge of John McNay, who was taken on suspicion of stealing between $600 and $700, from his employer, John Forgie. McNay has for more than two years tended bar and run a saloon here for Mr. Forgie, and so far as was possible be endeavored to make inoffensive his nefarious trade; make indicesive his herarious trade; this, together with the reputation he has ained here for fair and straightforward dealing, has gone far toward relieving him of this charge. The examination took place last Saturday and Monday before Justice Aird, and the testimony there elicited was to the effect that the money had been stolen from that the money had been stolen from the cash drawer while Mr. McNay, who sleeps at the saloon, was out to supper. The robbery was committed between the hours of 7.30 and 9 o'clock, and an old ax, found within a short distance of the building, showed beyond a doubt how the little side door had been pryed how the little side door had been pryed in. The thief must have been well acquainted with the place, for without trouble or noise he scon found the cash drawer and rifled it of its contents. 'Tis just here that suspicion pointed to the bartender: the drawer is very long, wide and shell by, ant all the small change was ranged in little tills in the front. At the back in one corner, were two sacks, one filled with silver, the other with gold, and in the other corner was a roll of greenbacks in a sack. Now the theory of the prosecution was, that a person who could find so many parcels in the dark, and secure them all without dropping any, who could break open a door without alarming passers by, must have been either an expert burglar, or that the man who gave the alarm first prepared the situation. Mr. McNay proved himself innocent, and as I said before, is discharged; he is to be congratulated. There is $300 re-reward offered for the conviction of the real criminal, and it is to be hoped that in a short time he will be brought to in. The thief must have been well ac real criminal, and it is to be hoped that in a short time he will be brought to justice. THE cattlemen of Heber seem to find policy might be pursued here. When the excursionists should arrive, the mayor and city officials should drive them about one town and show them its advantages.

The stock do not seem to have suffered much on their new range, as JUDGE BENSON was called for, and said that he had not been here long enough to make suggestions. Sait Lake City suited him. He had been traveling around the globs for a quarter of a certainty loss not find the condition.
